THE ML LIST

The editors of Mountain Living are pleased to present an exclusive guide to the most talented and influential architects and interior designers at work in the West today.

These designers and architects in mountain territories have worked hard to become top in their professions, and we've taken note of their work, along with receiving recommendations from their clients, vendors, professional organizations and readers.

This year's list is illustrated with a few of our favorite high-country spaces featured in the pages of Mountain Living over the past year. For more about our approach compiling the ML List, visit www.mountainliving.com/MLListApproach.

The architecture of this Lake Tahoe Martis Camp home is defined by strong horizontal lines, multiple rooflines, and steel, glass and sandstone. "The homeowners wanted to enjoy outdoor living, and that informed our entire process," says Keith Kelly of Kelly & Stone Architects.

KELLY & STONE ARCHITECTS

A clean and crisp farmhouse-style home at Martis Camp stretches horizontally across the site to capture the southern exposure and mountain views. A window wall in the dining room opens to a dining terrace for blending the indoor/outdoor experience.

The 2017
Home of the Year winner in Aspen was designed with plenty of space for friends and family. The dining room can be configured to seat up to 30 people. "The home has a wonderful sense of magic throughout the day's ever-changing light," says Mountain Living Legacy Award recipient Charles Cuniffe.
