ASPEN, CO — February 6, 2019 — Rowland+Broughton Architecture / Urban Design / Interior Design is pleased to announce the addition of five new team members to our studios, signifying marked growth moving into 2019. In Aspen, Catie Keel, NCIDQ, ASID, joins as Interior Designer and Adam Cook joins as Project Architect. In Denver, Amy Wicklund, PHR, SHRM-CP, joins as Human Capital Management Generalist, Lauren Amt, AIA, joins as Project Architect and Eugenie Provost joins as Architectural Designer.

Catie Keel, NCIDQ, ASID, joins as Interior Designer in Aspen, bringing several years of experience working for Poss Architecture + Planning in Aspen. Before that, she was Customer Service Specialist at Ethan Allen Global in Centennial, CO, and Commercial Project Manager at Seven Stone Surfaces in Nashville, TN.

Originally from Alabama, Catie graduated from the University of Alabama with a Bachelor of Science in Human Environmental Sciences in Interior Design with a double minor in Graphic Design and Art History. When she's not working, she enjoys traveling, following fashion and art, practicing yoga, skiing, and trail running with Aspen Trailheads, and is a volunteer with Aspen TREE and Aspen Young Life.

Adam Cook joins as Project Architect in Aspen, bringing with him a diverse project portfolio. A licensed architect, his balanced, comprehensive approach to details is reinforced by his desire for an honesty of materials and timeless design. Most recently, Adam worked at Warehouse in York, PA. Before that, he worked on large-scale projects at Detroit's SmithGroup commercial architecture firm.

Originally from Metropolitan Detroit, Adam received his Bachelor of Architecture and Master of Architecture degrees from the University of Detroit Mercy. His studies culminated in a thesis on the built environment and improving design and understanding in cities. When he's not thinking about or practicing architecture, his main hobbies are cars, cafés, furniture-building and realizing his lifelong dream of living in the mountains, where he enjoys rock climbing and snowboarding.

Amy Wicklund, PHR, SHRM-CP, joins as Human Capital Management Generalist in Denver, bringing over 15 years of experience within the Human Resources (HR) profession, strengthening standards and encouraging next-level performance. Most recently, Amy served as the Director of HR for the Joffrey Ballet in Chicago. Prior to that, she worked at the Hubbard Chicago Radio Group and The Ritz-Carlton Chicago.

Amy holds both Professional Human Resources and Society of Human Resources Management-Certified Professional Certifications. Professionally, she is passionate about team members' career advancement, employee enrichment plans, increasing retention, organizational development and standards, encouraging firms' culture and increased cohesiveness, and more. Personal passions include ballet, hiking, dogs, great design and studying French.

Lauren Amt, AIA, joins as Project Architect in Denver, bringing a diverse range of design experience. Most recently, Lauren worked as Project Architect for Searl Lamaster Howe Architects in Chicago. Prior to that, she worked at dSPACE Studio in Chicago as a Project Manager and Bowie Gridley Architects in Washington, D.C., as a Designer.

Lauren holds a Bachelor of Architecture degree from Syracuse University School of Architecture. In her role at R+B, she is applying her Revit, detailing and drawing skills on projects including the new W Hotel in Aspen. In her free time, she enjoys conquering Colorado's trails and slopes, traveling and kicking back with a local microbrew.

Eugenie Provost joins as Architectural Designer in Denver, with over five years of professional architecture experience, as well as experience garnered from working on architecture projects during summer internships.

Born and raised in Louisiana, where she learned the values of hospitality, honesty and hard work, Eugenie studied Building Science at Appalachian State University in Boone, NC. In her senior year, she participated in a yearlong program, IDEXlab, designing and building a new Welcome Center for Valle Crucis Community Park. She later received her Masters of Architecture from the University of Louisiana Lafayette. In addition to re-uniting with friends and family in Denver, and enjoying her puppy, Renzo, she spends time exploring new outdoor activities and the local culinary scene.

"Moving into a new year, we are so pleased to welcome these talented professionals to our Aspen and Denver studios. A continuing influx of exciting, high-caliber projects calls for project and support teams at every level in order to accommodate the needs of a varied roster of clients," shares R+B Director of Culture, Izzi Wagner. "Adding Catie, Adam, Amy, Lauren and Eugenie to our team reinforces our dedication to hiring and retaining top talent. Welcome all!"
